PREFACE

This handbook presents the guidelines for Ph.D Scholars to write synopsis of research and thesis/dissertations. These guidelines will be very helpful both to the students and their Supervisors for preparation of their manuscripts and also brought uniformity to the whole process. The previous guidelines are revised as per the valuable suggestions from the Desh Bhagat University members. Further suggestions are always welcomed. These instructions will help in saving a lot of time for both- scholars and committee for the preparation and the approval of the synopsis.
